

Dear Sirs,

This is in reference to proceeding 04-233

I am opposed to any rule making changes that will adversely impact or limit speech for radio stations such as K-Love. Christian radio fills a much needed radio segment for family friendly and encouraging entertainment. Rule making changes that will increase oversight or drive additional costs into running and managing these stations is not in the public interest. The fact that stations like K-Love are listener supported should indicate that there are many families who believe that Christian radio is worth supporting.

Sincerely,

Neil A Jacobson
